Step back in time and celebrate the Fourth of July with the Founding Fathers (and Mothers) in downtown Provo at the Crandall Historical Printing Museum.

Colonial Days is a first-time event for America's Freedom Festival and is a FREE 3-day celebration for the whole family. From University Avenue to 400 East on Center Street, you will enter Provo's flag-and-bunting-lined Colonial Ave. It will not be unusual to see men and women dressed in Colonial costume, and others roaming the streets and celebrating at Colonial Square outside the museum.

Day long family entertainment includes:

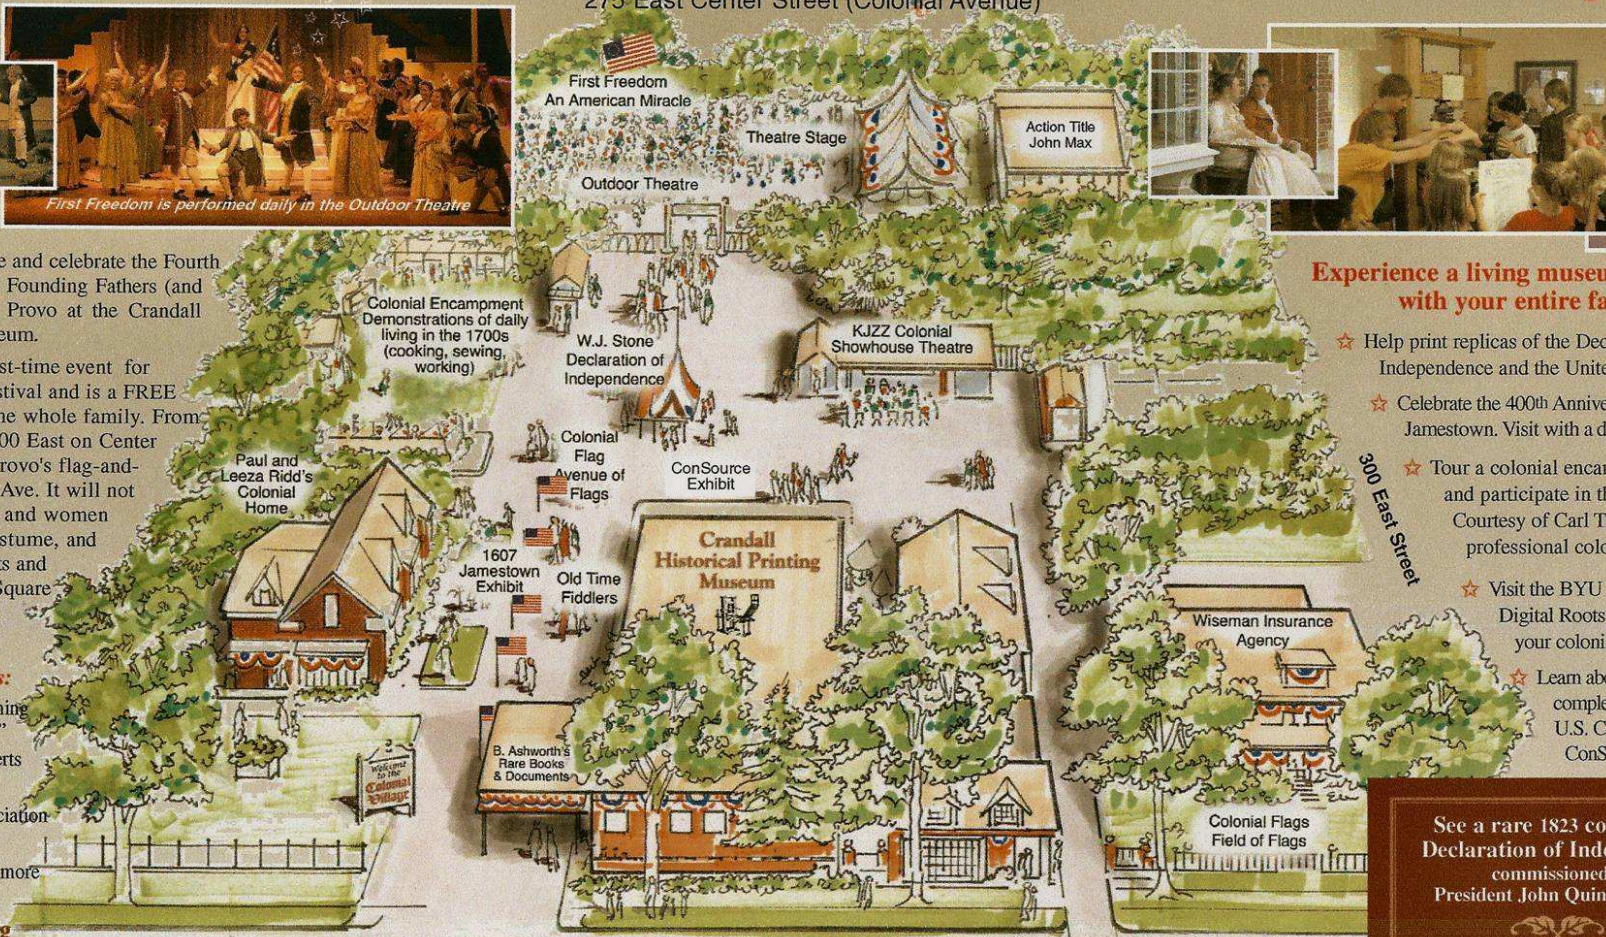

- ★ School Children performing the "Hope of America"
- ★ Brunson Brothers Concerts
- ★ Vocal Works Concerts
- ★ Old Time Fiddlers Association
- ★ Storytellers ★ Jugglers
- ★ Harpists ★ Royalty and more
